CPEEL-ANSOLE REGIONAL CONFERENCE 2018

THEME:

RENEWABLE ENERGY DEVELOPMENT IN AFRICA: AN INTERFACE OF TECHNOLOGY, ECONOMICS AND POLICY

Monday 5th – Tuesday 6th March, 2018

@ Trenchard Hall, University of Ibadan, Nigeria

CALL FOR PRESENTATIONS

The Centre for Petroleum, Energy Economics and Law (CPEEL), University of Ibadan, Ibadan, Nigeria in conjunction with the African Network for Solar Energy (ANSOLE), Jena, Germany is organising an international conference with the theme "Renewable Energy Development in Africa: An Interface of Technology, Economics and Policy". The CPEEL-ANSOLE conference provides a platform for an interdisciplinary and multi-stakeholder discourse on the potential, status, problems and research-based solutions for meeting the challenges facing renewable energy development in Africa. The conference presents an opportunity for stakeholders from academia, government, industry and Civil Society Organisations (CSOs) to foster inter-sectorial collaborations on the optimal exploitation and use of Africa's huge renewable energy potential.

THE BROAD AREAS OF INTEREST INCLUDE BUT ARE NOT LIMITED TO:

- Renewable Energy and the Growth Agenda (Sustainable Development Goals, Agenda 2063, Paris Climate Change Agreement)
- Enablers and Barriers to Developing Local Renewable Energy Markets
- Renewable Energy and Gender
- Regulatory and Policy Framework for Renewable Energy
- Innovation in Renewable Energy Technologies
- Capacity Building for Renewable Energy Development
- Renewable Energy for Access to Clean Water
- Current Theoretical and Experimental Research on Renewable Energy
- Entrepreneurship in Renewable Energy
- Renewable Energy for Sustainable Communities
- Societal Aspects in the Deployment of Renewable Energy
